

HOLUB, ACCUSED OF DEFRAUDING WOMEN, CAUGHT

Detective John Cunniffe of the District Attorney's staff left to-day for El Paso, Tex., to bring back John Holub, the Austrian that fifty or more women say swindled them out of sums aggregating $100,000 through an airplane and automobile brokerage office at 43d Street and Broadway. Holub was arrested last night in El Paso by Police Chief Pollock, and is believed to have been trying to get into Mexico. He had disappeared Sept. 2, just after the District Attorney took up the women's complaints against him.

The charges against Holub are forgery and larceny. The complaint on the larceny charge is Mary Wright of South Portland Avenue, Brooklyn, who charges that Holub got $1,400 of her money. Fred W. Rockwell, one of the proprietors of the Ten Eyck Hotel at Albany, is the complainant on the forgery charge.

One of the women who came to the District Attorney's office yesterday said that Holub had obtained $13,000 from her. This woman and most of the others, Mr. Doelling asserted, had been told by Holub that he had war contracts and would pay his investors from 15 to 20 per cent a month. The interest always was paid, but usually was promptly reinvested with Holub. Holub's first naturalization papers—his only ones—show that he was a native of Austria and came here from Hamburg, Germany. He gave his occupation as an aviator, and his residence as No. 318 West 57th Street.

M'CORMICK BEATS MAYOR THOMPSON IN ILLINOIS RACE

Loyalty of Chicago's Executive Was Questioned—Carried Home City.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Medill McCormick, Republican, won contest the Illinois Senatorship in November with James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic incumbent, having been nominated at yesterday's primaries by a plurality of 62,000 on the basis of returns available over Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago and Congressman George Edmund Foss.

With reports available from 1,379 precincts out of 2,973 outside Cook County (Chicago), McCormick had a plurality outside the metropolis estimated at 79,000. Mayor Thompson carried the city by 17,000, fewer than one-third the normal number of voters going to the polls.

Unofficial returns showed the total vote in Chicago to be only about 135,000. Foss polled only 13,000 votes in Chicago, but was close to Mayor Thompson down-State.

Former Gov. Richard Yates and William E. Mason, incumbent, were nominated by the Republicans for Congressmen-at-Large, although Mason had been opposed because of his alleged attitude toward the war. They will contest the election with M. H. Cleary and W. E. Williams, nominated by the Democrats.

Another Congressional candidate whose opponents attacked his war record in Congress was Fred A. Britten, but he carried the Ninth District over Fletcher Dobyns nearly three to one. Niels Juul, Congressman from the Seventh District, whose official attitude toward the war had been questioned during the campaign, was nominated by a comparatively small margin over M. A. Michaelson, a Thompson supporter.

House Minority Leader James R. Mann of the Second District was nominated for re-election without opposition, as was Joseph G. Cannon of the Eighteenth District. Mr. Cannon is seeking his twenty-second term in Congress, and will be opposed by only one other candidate, a Socialist.

COMPANY LOSES DYNAMITE, CASPAR LEON LOSES JOB

Old-Time Fighter Forfeits Watchman's License When Explosives Disappear.

Caspar Leon, who stood high among the smaller pugilists of two decades ago, was brought back into the limelight early to-day. Caspar has been employed by the Sanctor Construction Company as a watchman, in 182d Street, between Jerome and Aqueduct Avenues, the Bronx. While making his rounds early to-day Leon discovered the loss of ten out of seventeen and one-half sticks of dynamite, which had been stored there for blasting purposes. The police were notified and are searching for the man who had asked earlier in the night about a job. Leon was informed that he would have to forfeit his watchman's license for the time being.

28,000 IN LOAN PARADE.

East Side Promises That, Also to Subscribe $100,000,000. Announcement that the east side has pledged itself to subscribe $100,000,000 of the Fourth Liberty Loan, and that it will begin its campaign with a parade of 28,000 persons, ending in a mass meeting in Cooper Union, was made by Bernard K. Marcus, Vice President of the Bank of United States and executive member of the Metropolitan Liberty Loan Campaign Committee, at a meeting last night in Public School No. 52, Hester and Essex Streets.

"The parade will be a parade of the east side for the United States," he said, "and we intend to show the country that the most densely populated foreign section of the largest city in the United States is the first on the job."

time was regarded as a benefactor by the script of the witness, who now are demanding his punishment.

One letter was from a woman who not only was ready to turn over her money but also was ready to give the man the opportunity to turn in part: "I want to express to you the deep gratitude of my heart for your great and beautiful kindness in allowing me, through my dear and good friend Mrs. W., to share in the dividends with you when the public is not admitted to your company. To do a good act and help another living the presence of God. Your nature is so richly endowed with the humanities that you sow the good seeds of life with kind words on your lips and noble deeds from your heart."

Mr. Doelling withheld the name of the writer but the letter and the script were shown to one man in a woman who was in need of an income.

"Now this probably is some woman who drew her money out of a good concern to put it in Holub's hands, hoping to make a fortune," said Mr. Doelling. "Women who were swindled by Holub in some cases turned over their life insurance to him or their savings of years."

The Assistant District Attorney also was perplexed as to the methods Holub used in carrying on his various love affairs. Evidence to date, he said, showed that Holub had been married and had promised to marry at least three other women, besides many other minor affairs of the heart he may have had. All these women, who were captured by Holub's winning ways, he said, were giving him money and living on promises that he would see that they would share in the dividends and his love as well.

To one Holub wrote: "Remember that my whole body and soul is yours and nobody else's. Remember, baby, I love you and am longing to be back again."

Another: "I love you too much; it is quite dangerous, because every time I think of business your picture comes between."

To another, perhaps in a moment of pique: "I can't make love and do business at the same time. I feel like it, but my time is limited."

A letter which Mr. Doelling believes indicates how Holub tried to use one of his sweethearts to help him land $500 contained the sentence: "Only, I tell you, if you cannot put up this little lie now, when so much depends on it, it will be very costly. I cannot say more; I am afraid to lose my temper."

Across the back of a letter to one young woman Holub wrote in French: "Everything comes to him who is."

That Holub also mingled in New Thought and Spiritualist circles to further his alleged scheme is the opinion of Mr. Doelling. A letter to him from a woman at a New Thought camp said: "If we could only learn to rest on the everlasting arms, ways would be open whereby all our dreams could come true here and now. I would like to have you meet Dr. (her hostess). She is a dear. I know you would like her. She is one of our biggest New Thought teachers on the Path."

SAYS IT IS FISH OR FAMINE.

Head of International Game Commission Urges Conservation.

Fish or famine are alternatives we face, M. L. Alexander, Fish and Game Commissioner of Louisiana, declared to-day at the opening of the International Fish and Game Commissioners at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Mr. Alexander, who is President of the Association, told the 200 delegates it is up to them to conserve the supply of fish. "Unless an ample supply at reasonable prices is furnished we face a meat famine," he said.
